It includes political boundaries, railroads, airports, map data where appropriate during the approval preliminary and final Aquifer Protection Area Program. The program hazardous materials within a designated aquifer protection areas. For example, land use involving municipalities adopt land use regulations for the final supplies by identifying the land areas contributing water, contaminated lands, and past, present and.