The Aquifer Protection Area Program in Connecticut Department of Energy & Environmental Protection published quadrangle maps between 1969 and 1992. The protection in Rhode Island is available from the Aquifer Protection Area Program. The Lambert Conformal Conic Projection is used in the maps. The map shows projected land use, and the well fields can be submitted to DEEP for approval.