somewhere within the shaded area and not necessarily in a natural community. For more information complete a Cranberry Bog Ferry locate sites and to view NDDB Areas with aerial imagery.

EXPLANATION

This map displays potential locations of rare and listed flora and fauna species and federal endangered species that have been verified by the Department of Energy and Environmental Protection. This map shows the distribution of these species and the footprints of data for use in the Natural Diversity Database. This map is intended to be used as a planning tool for natural resource management. For more information on the data, visit the Natural Diversity Data Base website.

DATA SOURCES

Herb Data - Based on data compiled from the Natural Diversity Database, this map shows the locations of rare and threatened plant species. Includes data from the Department of Energy and Environmental Protection.

Use the Connecticut Vegetation Map Viewer at the Connecticut Natural Diversity Database for more information on rare and threatened plant species and view NDDB areas and locations.

Date of Map: June 2021

Natural Diversity Data Base Digital Data

For more information about State Listed Species, contact the Department of Energy and Environmental Protection.

Published by the Connecticut Department of Energy and Environmental Protection, Wildlife Division.

Digital and printed versions of this map are available at the Department of Energy and Environmental Protection website.