EXPLANATION
This map depicts natural areas of state and federal interest within the Town of New Milford. The data was compiled from various sources including the Natural Diversity Data Base (NDDB) and other state and federal databases. The data is not necessarily the most current and accurate, and it is intended to be used as a pre-screening tool to determine the potential for natural diversity. The map was prepared by the Connecticut Department of Energy and Environmental Protection. For more information, contact the Natural Diversity Data Base at (203) 777-1630.
